

If the student would like to explore his/her gifts and strengths, you can read a book together about spiritual gifts or help the student take a personality or spiritual gifts test. (Please see the "suggested reading list" at the back of the folder for books on this topic. The student can do some strengths and personality assessment through Career Services. You can also find tests online at such sites as www.keirsey.com.)

If you decide to read a book together, discuss if there will be homework. How much will
